

MISSOURI HPV EDUCATION COALITION

ENDORSEMENT FORM

Our organization supports access to the HPV Vaccine for all girls and women in Missouri.

Missouri women now have a weapon to use in the battle against cervical cancer, the HPV vaccine. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) recommends the HPV vaccine for girls at age 9 and routine vaccinations for girls at age 11. A catch-up vaccination is recommended for girls 13-26 who have not been vaccinated previously or who have not completed the full vaccine series. Ideally, the vaccine should be administered before potential exposure to HPV through sexual contact.

By signing this endorsement, we agree to work to build a broad-based coalition to support the access of the HPV vaccine for all girls and women in Missouri and name may be used in a list of coalition members and as endorsers of the coalition efforts.

We understand that by signing this form we are not committing to providing any specific financial contribution to this coalition effort nor are we endorsing any one organizational member of the coalition.
